CHILD SAFE POLICY

Fraser Music Studio believes any person attending the studio has inherent value as a human being, and as such, is entitled to be treated with safety, courtesy, respect and value whilst attending the studio, or conducting any studio related activities such as piano concerts.

Statement of Commitment to Child Safety

In ensuring the safety of all people and particularly children attending the studio, Fraser Music Studio is committed to the following:

- A zero tolerance of child abuse in any form
- Abuse includes physical, sexual, mental, emotional, spiritual or any other form of abuse
- Providing a safe environment for all children attending the Studio, achieved through:
- Encouraging adults to attend the lesson with the student
- Always conducting lessons in high visibility areas – e.g. all teaching rooms have large viewing windows where other students and parents can see the lesson even if they are not in the teaching room with the child
- Always asking the child before making physical contact to adjust incorrect arm or hand positions
- A zero tolerance to bullying
- Ensuring the cultural safety of all children from linguistically and culturally diverse backgrounds
- Providing a safe learning environment for any person with a physical, mental or emotional impairment
- Always listening to a child's concerns and creating situations that empower them
- Always speaking with respect and courtesy to all people who attend the studio
- Regular Working With Children's Checks, as required by NSW law
- The implementation of a Code of Conduct for all staff members, students, parents and visitors
